

Chamber Of Commerce Completing Plans For Permanent Organization

MEMBERSHIPS TO BE SOLICITED. MEMBERS TO ELECT OFFICERS

The Grayling Chamber of Commerce which has been functioning to date under a temporary set of officers selected by the Grayling Civic Committee, is now ready to organize on a permanent basis and following such organization, officers will be elected by the Chamber of Commerce, which entitles you to one committee has levied assessments against the business places and individuals in this community. In levying this assessment the committee has endeavored to be fair in their efforts to give all the proper consideration. No doubt some have been overlooked in which case their names will be added to the list at a later date.

In paying your assessment, you will receive a membership card to the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, which entitles you to one year's membership. On the face of the membership card is a notation to the effect that other solicitors will receive no consideration unless they have a solicitor's permit from the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, signed by the President of that organization. On the reverse side of the membership card, you are assured that no further solicitations will be made from you for a period of one year for anything of a civic nature. A membership in the Grayling Chamber of Commerce will entitle you to a membership in the Grayling Winter Sports Association and a percentage of the funds collected in this drive will go for the purpose of furthering the promotion of winter sports. In the past citizens of Grayling have been bothered considerably by various solicitors who have come into our city for funds and in many cases the merit of their cause was questionable. It is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce to eliminate this abuse in the future and this can be done if those holding memberships in the Grayling Chamber of Commerce refuse to donate money unless the solicitor has a solicitor's permit from the Chamber of Commerce signed by the President.

It will be the policy of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce to make public accounting for every cent taken in from sale of memberships or from any other source. Also every cent of expense will be accounted for so that the citizens will know definitely where every cent is coming from and what it is being spent for. In this same connection, the Winter Sports Association will make public a financial statement of their accounts at the end of each season.

In order that the Chamber of Commerce memberships be sold as soon as possible without taking up too much time of those that are donating their services to make these collections, the following days have been set aside as Grayling Chamber of Commerce days: Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 7th and 8th will find Chamber of Commerce solicitors calling on all citizens to sell memberships. In order to expedite matters, citizens are requested to mail their checks to the Grayling Chamber of Commerce and upon receipt of your check, a membership card will be furnished you at once. These cards should be displayed in a prominent place in your place of business or home. Below is a list of business concerns and individuals who have been assessed at this time and the amount of the assessment, and as soon as the list is completed the additional names will be added to this list. You can pay for your yearly membership in full or if you wish you may elect to pay the amount in quarterly installments. All citizens are requested to fully cooperate with this splendid movement and buy a membership and it will assist materially if you will mail your check to the Chamber of Commerce as it is quite an undertaking to call on everyone.

Grayling needs a Chamber of Commerce as evidenced by the number of people that are daily calling for information at our Chamber of Commerce information booth as well as the number of people that are daily writing letters for information. At a later date it is planned to move the Chamber of Commerce building to a location on US 27 near the park, however this move probably will not be made until next spring.

Get your checks in at once and get your membership cards displayed in a prominent place and show the officers of Chamber of Commerce you are willing to cooperate and that you appreciate the businesslike methods they have used to date in handling community affairs, which they have agreed to continue in the future.

The list of names below will continue in each weekly edition of this paper showing who have secured their memberships, that the citizens of Grayling may be kept advised of the progress being made:

Love, Honor and Obey

MEETING OF CIVIC COMMITTEE OF C. OF C.

The meeting of the Civic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Court House Tuesday night was well attended, with nearly every member in attendance.

Matters pertaining to our cemeteries were discussed. The special committee, consisting of Chairman Al. Roberts, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Welsh, and Farnum Matson, have been doing a lot of investigating with the idea of forming a cemetery board for the handling of the cemetery affairs. A number of good suggestions were advanced and will be under consideration of the committee, and further progress will be reported at the next meeting of the Civic committee.

Matters pertaining to the city tourist camp, formerly known as the Conine grove, were brot up for discussion. No doubt some definite improvements will be made here before another season begins.

Complaint having been made regarding the pile of lumber stacked in the street at the corner of Michigan and Peninsula avenues, the matter was referred to City Manager George Granger.

Acting President Royal A. Wright of the Chamber of Commerce requested that steps be taken to elect a permanent organization, and it was decided that the present acting officers should continue until a definite list of members is available and then to hold a mass meeting for the election of a board of directors and officers.

The matter of supporting the plan of raising a sum of money for paying the expenses of the Grayling American Legion Drum & Bugle Corps for a trip to New York City to take part in the national convention parade was approved. This organization has an investment in instruments and uniforms amounting to over $3,000, fully paid for. The members have done a good job and are a credit to their home city wherever they appear and it was the general opinion of the members of the Civic committee that the expense of sending the Corps to the national convention was well worth the sum required for doing so by the advertising it will give Grayling and the entire county.

The acting officers of the Chamber of Commerce have drafted a plan of assessments for memberships in the organization. They appear in four classes—Class A, $36 per year; class B, $24 per year; class C, $12 per year; class D, $6 per year and class E, $3 per year. These memberships may be paid at one time or in quarterly payments as desired. The soliciting committee will be calling on the citizens of Grayling in a few days. It is hoped that the sum of $1,500 may be raised, which is the amount estimated that will be required for this year.

PAUL HENDRICKSON GETS PROMOTION

Paul Hendrickson, who has been with the District office of the U. S. Employment Service in Bay City, has recently been transferred to Alpena, where he is now acting manager of the office there. He succeeds Mr. Louis H. Hormant, who had been manager since 1936.

Prior to this time Mr. Hendrickson had been field supervisor and service man working under Charles Lenz, district manager of 20 counties including Alpena. This is a fine advancement for Mr. Hendrickson, and Grayling people are wishing him lots of success in his new position.

RANDOM THOTS

Many believe, but do not reason.

Opportunity seldom just happens.

A high court in Berlin has ruled that Germans do not have to pay debts to Jewish merchants.

Science is out-smarting the murderer, robber and kidnaper.

Did you ever figure out what kind of a city Grayling would be if every man was just like you?

Those who never attend church don't have to think up excuses for remaining away.

Fashion experts are predicting even scantier raiment for women this fall. Perhaps it isn't going to be such a drab season as expected.

German-American Bund organizes 21 camps thruout U. S.

Apple crops should average six gallons to the bushel.

Politics makes strange bed-fellows, but they soon get accustomed to the same bunk.

Grayling can't hope to get very far until local business men do a better job of pulling together.

C. I. O. should stand for "cut it out."

There are still too many politicians who believe in holding up the law instead of upholding it.

A lot of people about Grayling should be in attendance at the nudist convention in New Jersey this week.

It's because of so many fools in the world that the wise man gets an occasional break.

Don't wait until the last day before starting home with your family when you have children for school. Fast travel on Labor Day is dangerous, besides the kiddies will be better off after a day or two at home after the summer vacation.

The Chamber of Commerce solicitors will soon be passing you. Grayling is either going ahead or ---! Let's back up all honest effort for our good.

A recent "Public Opinion" article about the condition of the cemeteries seems to have started something.

The Legion Drum and Bugle corps deserves our support in return for the splendid job they have done in building up this fine organization. Grayling is proud of them.

FREDERIC SCHOOL TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 7

Principal—Coach—History—Wm. Beach.

All bus lines will run practically the same routes and time schedules as last year.

State Ready For Labor Day Traffic

Lansing, September 1—The State Highway Department was busy this week getting ready for the annual Labor Day holiday traffic rush.

Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner sent special orders to assistant district engineers directing them to put the trunklines in the best possible condition. Dust treatment for gravel roads was particularly emphasized.

"This matter is very serious," the Commissioner said. "We must make absolutely sure that every mile of road is in the best possible shape in anticipation of unusually heavy traffic for the Labor Day week-end."

District engineers were directed to cease road-building activities during the three-day holiday on trunklines where traffic is maintained over construction. Construction on relocated routes will not be affected by the special order.

Capt. E. H. Doner, superintendent of the state ferries, was directed to operate the ferry boats at random without regard to any fixed schedule at the Straits of Mackinac. The new boat, "City of Cheboygan," is expected to relieve the holiday congestion materially. It has been carrying an average of 800 cars daily since it was placed in service.

The Commissioner urged motorists to drive with special caution.

"Special traffic conditions," he said, "call for special driving methods. Speeds must be reduced in heavy traffic. Trips should be started sufficiently in advance to give motorists time to arrive at their destination at moderate speeds. The car and its equipment should be thoroughly checked. If every driver makes it a personal responsibility to drive safely, Michigan can reduce its holiday traffic toll."

JAYNE KEYPORT WINS MORE GOLF HONORS

The Championship tournament of the Ladies of the Grayling Golf Club was brought to an end Sunday when in the finals Miss Jayne Keyport defended her reputation as a golfer by winning over Mrs. C. G. Clippert, the latter who in the handicap tournament as well as this tournament held her score down to go through to the finals, making a fine record. Miss Keyport's name will again be engraved on the large silver trophy, where before it has won recognition.

The tournament play ran as follows: In the opening matches Mrs. Roy Milnes defeated Mrs. George Olson, Miss Keyport winning the match between herself and Mrs. Roy Trudgeon; Mrs. Clippert heading toward the top by winning from Mrs. Esbern Olson, and Mrs. Wm. Hill defeated Miss Lois Kraus. The semifinals brought Miss Jayne closer to the championship when she defeated Mrs. Milnes in a close and exciting match, and Mrs. Hill bowed to Mrs. Clippert. The final match of 36 holes was played off Saturday and Sunday. Again we hail Miss Keyport as champion of 1937.

On Sept. 6, Labor Day, the members of the club will enjoy a two-ball foursom with the ladies and men as partners. A pot luck supper will be served in the club, after which the cups and prizes for all inter-club tournaments will be awarded.

LARGE TRI-MOTOR AIRLINER TO CARRY PASSENGERS HERE

A Stinson tri-motor airliner will operate here Saturday, Sept. 4 at the local Grayling airport, carrying the public on sight-seeing trips over the surrounding territory.

The airliner is piloted by Les Musgrove, veteran pilot who has been engaged in aviation for the past nine years.

The big plane is fully equipped for night flying as required by the government. Has retractable landing lights, safety flares, and equipped for radio. Has lavatory room, full 35 inch airwheels and hydraulic brakes.

A sound car will be on the field to entertain with music and keep the people well informed upon happenings during the day.

Will the Tigers finish in second place this year? Keep up with their play by reading H. G. Salinger's column daily and Sunday in The Detroit News.

Grayling's Drum and Bugle Corps

(Contributed)

It was announced in the last week's edition of the Crawford Avalanche that the Grayling American Legion Post 106 Drum & Bugle Corps had received an invitation to participate in the biggest parade ever staged in the United States, which will take place on Fifth Avenue in New York City on Tuesday, September 21st. This parade will take between 22 and 24 hours to pass in review. Every State in the Union will be represented in this parade, as well as Alaska, Philippine Islands, and Legion Posts in France, Italy and England. If it is possible to send the Grayling Post Drum Corps to New York it will be a fine showing for a city the size of ours to be represented. Grayling would be one of the smallest towns in the United States represented with a full uniformed Drum Corps.

At this date only four Corps will be representing Michigan, and if our local Corps can be present it will be the sole representative of Northern Michigan.

The Corps plans to advertise our community with full length banners on the side of their coach calling attention to our city and the famous AuSable river. This in itself will be good advertising as all sportsmen throughout the east are somewhat acquainted with the AuSable. Also they plan on using some form of advertising in the parade itself in conjunction with the Corps.

The local Corps has been organized for two and one-half years and at the present time has an investment of about $3,700.00 in uniforms, instruments and other equipment which has all been paid for, and the Corps has no outstanding indebtedness. The credit for this financial showing on the part of the Corps does not reflect back to the Legion but the credit for this organization, as given by other communities and Legionnaires, goes to the city of Grayling and its citizens.

They know that to organize, equip and maintain a Corps requires the full support of our citizens financially.

In the period that the Corps has been in existence, they have appeared in neighboring communities for the public functions more than fifty different times. This means that each trip of the Corps required nine cars to transport the Corps, and this expense along with the cost of feeding the Corps, was practically all paid for by the Corps itself.

The following people have already subscribed to this enterprise:

W. L. McClanahan	$100.00
City of Grayling	100.00
C. J. McNamara	50.00
Alfred Hanson	50.00
Dr. Cook	25.00

SWIMMING HOLE OK FOR SWIMMING

The local health officer reports that a sample of the water taken from the swimming hole back of the round house has been analyzed and has been found OK for swimming.

There have been rumors that this water was contaminated but this is not the case.

Grayling Schools To Open Sept. 7th

School will open for the year 1937-8 on Tuesday morning, September 7, calling the youth of Grayling back to a thirty-eight week session of lessons.

Over a million students will be in public schools in Michigan, and about twenty-five million attend the public schools of the United States. Of these close to six hundred are expected to report to the local school system for the new school year.

Since the end of the school year which closed last June the local Board of Education has authorized a fine program of reconditioning, including sanding and refinishing the desks, which alone is a marked improvement. The physical plant is in excellent shape for the year's activities, and Grayling has just cause for pride in the condition of its schools.

The South Side school, which was put into operation last year, will again be open for pupils in the kindergarten, first, second, and third grades. This is the same arrangement as was followed last year. For obvious reasons it is impossible to admit pupils to kindergarten who are not four and a half years of age. Ten grade teachers will be included on the staff.

Advance enrollment was held last spring for the upper grades which was a guide in schedule building. It is hoped that there will be very little shifting from the selections made then. With plans carefully laid in advance it is customary to find high school classes running full time and with a minimum of confusion on Wednesday, the first day on which classes will meet regularly. One thing which will help this is the fact that there will be no delays in the high school about getting books, for they will be ready to be issued to the students. However it should be stated that anyone who wishes to own their books may purchase them as in the past. Cooperation of parents with the school in the care of school-owned books is asked for and confidently expected. Grade books will be furnished on the same plan as was followed last year. All departments of the school will be ready to swing into action.

The staff of twenty teachers who are engaged for this year are as follows:

Gerald Poor, Superintendent of Schools, Grayling.
Willard Cornell, Principal, Physical Education, Grayling.
High School
Frank Bond, Science, Grayling.
Ceel Roberts, History and Mathematics, Onaway.
Joseph Stripe, Manual Arts, Ontonagon.
Josephine Nichols, Languages, Mathematics, Lansing.
Eva F. Dorr, Commercial, Grass Lake.
Eleanor Tumath, Home Economics, Charlevoix.
Jessie MacDonald, English, Marquette.
Martha Johnson, Music, Norway.

Grades, Central School
Ina Marie Tapio, Kindergarten, Calumet.
Katheryn Kinsella, First Grade, Crystal Falls.
Irene Bant, Second Grade, Calumet.
Ina Conboy, Third Grade, Cheboygan.
Frances Hewens, Fourth Grade, Ypsilanti.
Margaret Douglas, Fifth Grade, Lovells.
Margaret Geedey, Sixth Grade, Big Rapids.
Viola Wollmer, Fifth and Sixth Grades, Detroit.

South Side School
Margaret Fyvie, Principal, Third and Fourth Grades, McMillan.
Mildred Fink, Kindergarten and First Grades, Alma.
Only four new teachers were needed in a year when there has been considerable shifting. Miss Bant and Miss Kinsella have both been teaching in the Upper Peninsula, while Miss Wollmer is from the University of Michigan and Miss Johnson comes from Northwestern University. Besides these, Mr. Bond returns to his position here following a semester's leave of absence to complete his Master's degree in Economics at the University of Michigan.

Although there is on the average about one filling station for every mile of surfaced highway in the state systems, approximately 1,500,000 motorists ran out of gas last year, an increase of 50 per cent over 1935.

REV. AND MRS. JUHL FETED ON THEIR DEPARTURE

A farewell supper and reception were given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Hans Juhl on Sunday evening by the congregation of Danish-Lutheran church. Rev. Juhl had preached his farewell sermon at the morning service. The minister and his wife left Tuesday for a short visit in southern Michigan, after which they will begin their pastorate at Hampton, Iowa, a parish which they served for eight years during the Rev. Juhl's early ministry.

The program on Sunday evening was held at the Danebod hall. The ladies of the church served a pot luck supper on four long tables which were centered with bouquets of garden flowers. A short program followed in the auditorium, which was attractively decorated with huge baskets of flowers. Songs were sung and several short talks were given, all of them expressing appreciation of the fine service rendered by the Juhs during their six years in Grayling.

The chairman of the occasion, and president of the congregation Chris Johnson, presented the guests of honor with a gift, making a short speech. Besides Mr. Johnson, Judge Hans Petersen, Miss Margrethe Hemmingsen and Miss Ingeborg Hanson were among those who gave brief tributes to their minister and wife. Rev. Edgar Flory spoke of the happy personal relation which he and Mrs. Flory have had with the Juhs, and extended the felicitations of his congregation. Mrs. Juhl responded with a few remarks, followed by the Rev. Juhl, who told of his ministry in Grayling, of the reasons which led him to accept the Hampton call, closing with the hope that the congregation here would prosper and be blessed.

The Juhs leave behind them a host of friends in Grayling besides their own congregation. The best wishes of the churches and community go with them.

Must Advertise For Road Bids

The right of Michigan contractors to submit sealed bids on county road and bridge building, rebuilding and repairing projects is recognized in a consent decree signed this week (Wednesday) by Judge George W. Sample of the Washtenaw County Circuit Court, at Ann Arbor.

The decree was the result of an agreement between Albert J. Rapp, Prosecuting Attorney representing the Washtenaw County Road Commission, and attorneys for Daniel B. Sutton, who had requested an injunction compelling the road commission to advertise for bids on road projects.

For several years it has been the practice of many county road commissions in Michigan to carry out their construction and repair work, including graveling and blacktopping of roads, with their own men and equipment without asking for contractors' bids. It has been the contention of the Michigan Road Builders' Association that this is illegal, and that the commissions are required by law to obtain bids, even though the law specifically states that the commissions may reject the bids, if too high, and do the work with their own forces. If the bids are rejected, they must be filed with the County Clerk, with reasons for rejection.

The decree states, in part: "The Board of County Road Commissioners for the County of Washtenaw from and after the date of the entering of this Decree shall, in all cases involving the expenditure of an amount greater than $500 for the building, rebuilding or repairing of roads or bridges, advertise for sealed proposals for such work in accordance with plans and specifications on file in the office of the said board."

Floyd E. Koontz, secretary of the Michigan Road Builders' Association, which is composed of road and bridge contractors, declared that the decree may make it possible for many of the contractors, who have been forced into idleness as the result of reduced Federal and State highway programs, to bid on county road work.

"These contractors have hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in machinery and other equipment, on which they pay heavy taxes," Mr. Koontz said. "It is only fair that the law recognizes their right to submit bids on county projects."

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT THIS NOON

Grayling Golfers Defeat West Branch

LUNCHEON FEATURE ADDS TO SOCIAL PLEASURE

It's always a glad time when Grayling and West Branch golfers get together, and such was the case last Sunday. Being a warm day didn't seem to lessen the ardor of the players and soon after 11:00 a. m. the local course was alive with players.

The fact that Grayling won the game hands down seemed not to concern either side seriously. The Grayling-West Branch golf companionship is always at its best when the players meet on the links. Each club was represented by 21 players.

The first foursoms started out at 11:00 a. m. and were followed in quick succession by the other players. After the tournament a luncheon was served by the local players, and a social hour spent in the club house. Everyone seemed to enjoy this feature and it added to the pleasure of the day.

The score was: Grayling 45; West Branch 18.

HOME EXTENSION GROUPS ENJOY PICNIC

The Home Extension Groups of Crawford County enjoyed their annual picnic at Lake Margrethe last Wednesday. There were 28 ladies and 24 children among whom were members of Grayling Groups I and II, and Frederic. The ladies present regretted to note the absence of AuSable, Beaver Creek, Higgins Lake and Maple Forest groups.

After the sumptuous picnic dinner, County Chairman Arthur Glidden gave a talk, and then a program of contests enjoyed, with the following as winners:
A contest of Jumbled Counties—Mrs. Hurl Deckrow.
Treasure hunt—Faye Christenson.
Chasing Pigs to Market—Miss Alice Hertzler for grown-ups; Joe Kernosky for boys, and Barbara Borchers for girls.

A military tap dance given by Patsy Hope Heric topped off a very pleasant program.

Mrs. Earl Broadbent told of the interesting time had at Farm Women's Week at Michigan State College, which everyone enjoyed very much.

Home Extension work is gaining favorably in Crawford county and this coming season promises many more organized groups. The course chosen by the ladies for this year is Home Furnishings. This course is offered free by the state with Miss Alice Hertzler as the able director of the activities.

JOB COMMISSION ASKS REPORT ON WAGES PAID MICHIGAN WORKERS

Detroit, August 25—Frank A. Picard, chairman of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, today announced that every subject employer in the state must file with the Commission by October 31 a report on wages paid to each of their employees during the calendar quarter July 1 to September 30.

"Such information," Picard said, "is absolutely essential to the Commission in establishing a well-organized and complete record of workers' earnings from which their unemployment compensation benefits will be computed."

The Commission, Picard said, is permitted under the act as amended in July to begin payment of benefits on July 1, 1938.

To assist the employer who is subject both to the Michigan act and to Title Eight of the Social Security Act (Old Age Benefits) forms for quarterly reports on wages paid are being designed to conform to the size and arrangement of the Federal form required under that title of the Social Security Act.

The Federal Act, for the purpose of computing Old Age Benefits, requires that each subject employer file two reports to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Those reports must be on Form SS2 (containing a summary of wages payable for employment subject to the act along with the total of contributions payable on those wages) and SS2A (containing a report on wages paid to each individual employee).

The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act regulations likewise require similar information from employers subject to its provisions. Corresponding forms prescribed by the Commission have been designated UC12 (the summary) and UC12A (the individual wage report).

An original copy of Michigan form UC12 must be filed with the Commission. Form UC12A, identical in size and arrangement with Federal Form SS2A, may be filed as a carbon copy of the Federal form.

"The Commission," Picard said, "has attempted to simplify the employer's work by ruling that the Michigan form UC12A containing the information as to wages paid each worker may be made as a carbon copy of data on the Federal form SS2A."

"The employer, in preparing the SS2A report may make a carbon copy on the Michigan form UC12A and thus in one operation comply with both the Social Security Act's Title VIII and the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission provision."

"The SS2A's when prepared must be assembled, attached to form SS2 and sent to the Internal Revenue Bureau. Both Michigan forms, likewise prepared, must be sent to the Michigan Commission offices at Detroit."

"Both forms require the reporting of worker's earnings records in order that their Old Age Benefits as well as their Unemployment Compensation may be computed promptly and on an accurate basis."

Picard said that in reporting wages to the Michigan commission the employer should only record the first $3,000 paid the individual worker. The same must be reported on the Federal Form SS2A.

"In addition wages paid to persons over 65 must also be reported. That item is not required in the Federal forms, inasmuch as persons over that age are not liable for taxes for Old Age Benefits. Employers must also report wages for employment not subject to taxes under Title Eight of the Social Security Act but subject to the Michigan law."

After the first report has been filed on October 31, forms UC12 and UC12A must be given to the Commission for each subsequent period of three calendar months ending December 31, March 31, June 30, and September 30.

The reports will be due at the Detroit offices of the Commission on the last day of the month following the period for which the report is submitted.

"These information reports," Picard warned, "must not be confused with the Contribution reports also required of employers subject to the Michigan act."

"Contributions on wages paid during the first nine months of 1937 are due on October 31," Picard explained. "After that date they must be made each month on the first $3,000 of wages paid each worker."

Picard also announced that every worker covered by the Michigan act must secure a Social Security account number, even though he is ineligible to receive Old Age Benefits and does not pay a tax for these benefits.

The numbers may be obtained at any local post office or by writing to the Social Security Board in Washington.

"Each account number," Picard declared, "will be used as identification and for keeping employees' records straight during

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION DEPT. LANDS IN TB HOSPITAL

We presumed that the splendid new northern Michigan TB hospital at Gaylord was to be devoted entirely to the job of treating, reviving and putting back into active life those unfortunate, old and young, who had been attacked by that awful destroyer, but now comes word that a district office of the Vocational Rehabilitation Department has been established in the lobby of the big new hospital and that this district office would have charge of that work in 26 counties in the northern end of the lower peninsula of our state. To mix up in hodge podge fashion the business of treating and curing TB patients with any of the federal or state agencies that have sprung up to take care of everything from belly aches to bull bustin' is a most discouraging send off to give to this institution out of which northern Michigan TB sufferers hoped to obtain relief. No matter what was ailing you, to be thrown in the environs of any of that kind of rehabilitation or WPA or associated messes would not tend to make you fit and fighting for an early recovery. If it is the intention to convert this beautiful new building, so admirably suited and fitted for the purposes for which it was conceived and erected into a station to take care of this and that and the other things that paid brain trusters are engaged in playing with, then for God's sake break the news to northern Michigan TB sufferers that they must wait until another scheme is hatched to save their lives.—Cheboygan Observer.

ADVENTURE IS COMING IN THE AMERICAN BOY

Readers who like adventure and the lure of far places will find plenty to please them in coming issues of THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. They'll read, for instance, of seamen and sabotage and San Francisco water-front trouble, of daring adventure in the world of pseudo-science, and of a feud aboard a plunging, rolling battleship.

They'll read, too, of excitement aboard a transport plane blaring over jungled Mexican mountains, and of stranger planes that are not bound to earth but wing through the noiselessness of space. Readers can follow a young ex-Mountie as he searches for clues in the wild northlands, and Tierney, the pie-eating detective, on the trail of city criminals.

A new feature in THE AMERICAN BOY is picture pages that tell stories. Pictures, for instance, that vividly show a day in the life of a coast guardsman, and how an Eskimo husky sled dog does his work. They transmit the thrill of battling a hundred pound, water-churning tarpon. Tips on how it's done are also given pictorially—ranging from how to run a broken field to how to be correct in a ballroom!

NOTE: Subscription prices of THE AMERICAN BOY will be raised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect: one year at $1.00 or three years at $2.00. Foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On newsstands the price is 15c a copy.

THE MODEST MAN

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I HAVE never, never, never, Ever, ever, ever, ever, Thought myself one half as clever As I am.

All unmoved by adulation And accustomed admiration, When it comes to self-laudation I'm a clam.

I have never, never, never, Ever, ever, ever, ever, Talked concerning my endeavor As I could.

I have not enumerated All the things that could be stated Or myself appreciated As I should.

I have, never, never, never, Ever, ever, ever, ever, Told the world how really clever I can be.

When applause are the loudest, Then the thing of which I'm proudest

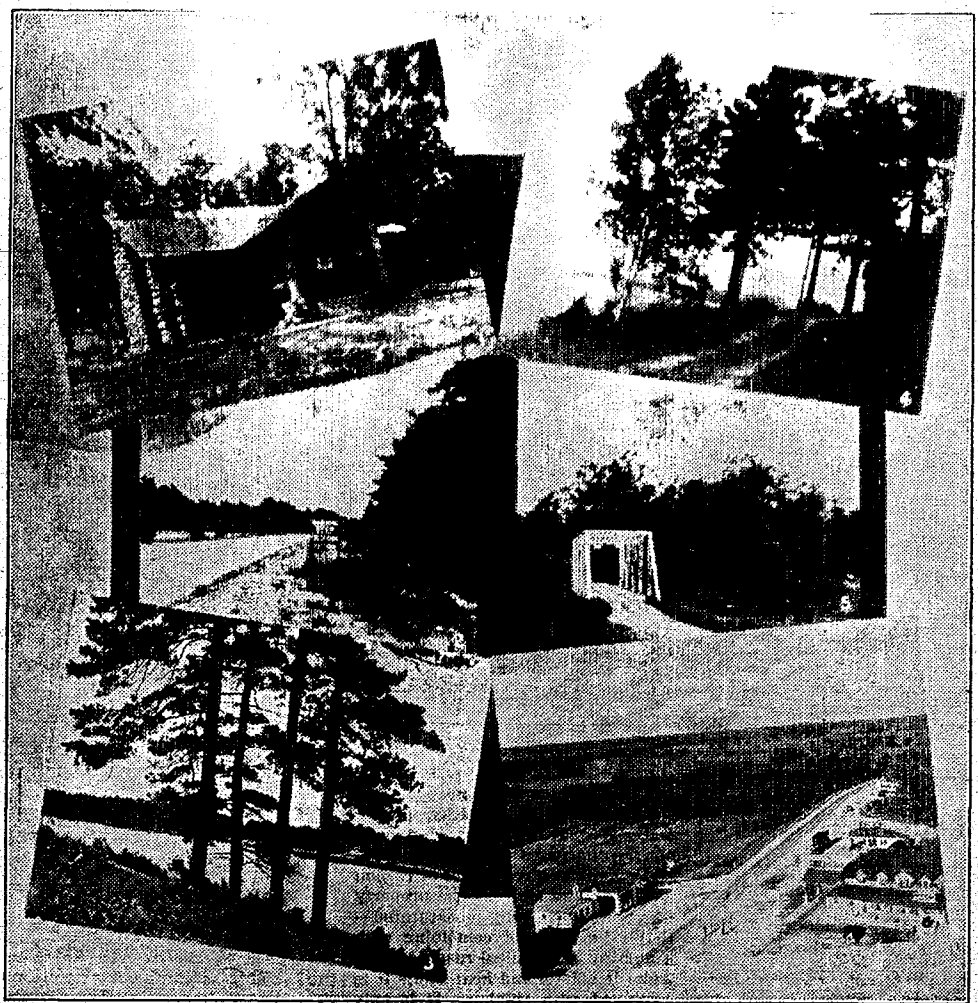

Is the fact I am so modest Over me.

In addition, Picard stated, Michigan employers must enter on both forms UC12 and UC12A an Employer's Registration number to be assigned them, at some later date under the act as amended.

Look Out, Playboys! Chorines Master Muskets

Tokyo.—If, as pulp-paper novels would have you believe, chorus girls are the champion "gold diggers," these dancers of the Osaka Girls' Opera troupe should be doubly dangerous. Equipped with muskets, they perform daily drills under the supervision of an army officer "to promote the spirit of organized action."

Children in Court

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Instead of purchasing a tube of tooth-paste with the money his father had given him, a sixteen year old boy played a slot machine that stood in the store.

To his dismay, the one armed mechanical bandit devoured his money and he had nothing to show his father for the funds that had been entrusted to his care. Knowing what the consequences would be when he returned home empty handed, he picked up a tube of tooth-paste and hurried out of the store.

When the merchant indignantly appeared in court to sign a petition for the boy's arrest, the judge said: "You are responsible for this boy's delinquency and I regret that I do not have the authority to impose a fine on you."

Five boys stood in court recently and confessed that they had stolen several hundred dollars worth of brass from the city and various manufacturing plants. Two electric traffic signal lights valued at eighty dollars were destroyed so that a few pounds of brass could be secured.

During the course of the trial it was learned that the brass had

Pure Rubber

Pure rubber is a sticky, plastic material that is useless for most of the purposes for which it is needed. It is a compound of carbon and hydrogen and has the property of being chemically unsaturated—that is, capable of combining with a number of chemical reagents. To make it elastic and heat-stable it is combined with sulphur. It is only within recent years that successful attempts have been made to combine it with other things. The gas chlorine, for example, combines with it quite readily to give a resinous material that is useful as a base for varnishes. With hydrochloric acid product is formed that can be molded into elastic, transparent sheets. The latest development in this line is that of oxygenated rubber. The combination of rubber and oxygen is a soft, plastic mass that can be readily molded but which on heating sets into a tough, hard solid.

been sold to several junk dealers. When the boys were confronted by the junk dealers they readily admitted that they would not have stolen the traffic lights if it had not been possible to dispose of the brass they contained.

The parents of the boys, together with the city officials and representatives of the manufacturing firms immediately joined forces in asking the prosecuting attorney to bring suit against the junk dealers.

THE SPASTIC COLON

In many cases of constipation the colon is spastic, irritable and taut. This is a direct reflection of a personality which is unstable, tensional, irritable and unable to give itself out to other people. The psychologists speak of a constipated mind, meaning a person who has so many worries concerning himself that his associations with other people always are meagre and unhappy. Naturally, the gastro-intestinal tract reflects such a condition. Personality factors, including worry and the habit of hurrying, are the chief causes of constipation.

Dr. Elmer L. Eggleston recently discusses the subject and draws an analogy between the traffic regulations and constipation, comparing the colon with the traffic robots that get stuck at red so that the traffic is obstructed. The x-ray in these cases shows along the length of the colon areas of spasticity where the colon is clamped down tightly preventing the normal movements of its contents. Other areas may be quite relaxed.

Curiously enough, the ignorance of the patient regarding the specific cause of the colon malfunction leads him to use excessive amounts of laxative and cathartics in an effort to break this vicious circle. This procedure merely increases the irritability of an already highly unstable colon and accomplishes nothing of a permanent nature. Young people and very old people are immune to constipation, as a rule, the average age of the constipated individual being about 40 years.

There frequently is a familiar tendency both to nervousness and constipation, the latter being uncommon among the uneducated classes and much more prevalent in women. Women confined to the home with little diversion are more prone to introversion and worry about minor things so that the disturbed bowel function frequently becomes a source of fear—fear that the bowels will not move being reflected in the colon, and they do not move.

When the colon is spastic, the stool at times may be ribbon-like or pencil shaped. Bowel movements are always accompanied by considerable pain and discomfort, being, of course, aggravated by the use of cathartics. Gas is prominent and accompanied by symptoms of nausea, a feeling of lassitude, headache, and lack of appetite as well as sleeplessness. These also are the symptoms of nervousness.

When constipation is present a diagnostic survey, including x-ray studies of the colon, should be made to be certain that no organic disease such as cancer may exist. A local examination also should be made to rule out such factors as hemorrhoids and fissures which commonly are present. The treatment should include certain physical measures such as regular outdoor exercise under ideal conditions, pleasant diversion in the form of light games to bring the patient out of himself, relieving him of his fears and anxiety and re-educating him toward a saner mental life. A liberal bland diet including but little roughage is indicated and when the weight is below normal the use of six quarts of milk per day to which has been added a tablespoon of milk sugar to each quart will cause a gain of weight and tend to relieve the constipation.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

By Roger B. Whitman

PROTECTION AGAINST TERMITES

I AM hearing more and more of damage to houses by termites, and from practically all sections of the country. Termites are now known to be the real cause of a destruction of wood that was formerly blamed on dry rot. It is a matter of fact that nature provides termites for the reduction of dead wood to mold. They are part of the scheme of things. They are pests only when they attack wood that mankind wants to preserve. We cannot hope to exterminate termites. Our protection against them is to build our houses in such a way that they cannot be invaded.

Termite nests are always in the ground. In attacking a house, they do not set up nests in the wood-work, but travel back and forth between the wood and the home nest. Considering the damage that they can do, it seems only rational to build a house in such a way and of such materials that an attack will not be possible.

Foundations should be poured concrete, reinforced with steel bars to prevent cracking. In modern house designs, the first floor is on a level with the ground—or nearly so. This brings the floor beams within easy reach of termites. These beams should therefore be of steel instead of wood. Sills, studs, sheathing and other wood parts are also exposed. For protection, these wood parts should be impregnated with any one of several chemicals that will make them termite-proof. Treated wood can be had through any lumber yard. The price will be somewhat increased, but considering the damage that is avoided, the extra cost can be regarded as insurance, and is certainly a small price to pay.

Termites are of three classes or castes. The largest caste is made up of the "workers," which do the damage. A second class, known as "soldiers," protect the workers against the attacks of ants and other enemies. Both of these castes are white; they are blind and never come to the surface. The third class is made up of winged black "reproductives." Once a year in the spring, occasionally also in the fall, these appear in a great swarm; they flutter about for a brief time, drop their wings, and disappear. A swarm of these insects is a danger signal that no home owner should disregard. He should at once find out whether his house has been attacked. There will be no outward sign on the woodwork; the destruction will all be within and can be learned only by drilling small holes, by pounding, or in some other way that will indicate hollowing of the timber. He may find slender tunnels of clay over the surface of masonry, these being the paths by which the termites circulate from the nest in the group.

Information on how to proceed can be had from a pamphlet issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The departments of agriculture of many states also have information.

Hudson and Staten Island
Staten Island was one of the earliest discoveries of the explorer, Henry Hudson. He first saw the highlands on September 2, 1609, and on the following day entered the lower bay and anchored in the harbor of Sandy Hook. The next day he manned a small boat and sent it through the narrows to explore the bay, and the island now known as Staten Island was discovered September 4. It was then inhabited by a branch of the Raritan Indians. In 1630 the Dutch West India company purchased the island from the natives, giving in exchange for it "some kettles, axes, hoes, wampum, drilling awls, jew's-harps and divers small wares." It was the Dutch who named the island, calling it Staaten Eylandt—Island of the States—after the States General, the Parliament of the Netherlands, which was popularly referred to as "The States."

With Equal Weight

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

NOT only Atlas bore the earth Upon his shoulders. Also we Have some small world of some small worth For our responsibility. Not burdened only are the great, For others have them, each and all; Yes, problems press with equal weight Upon the mighty and the small.

Our own small world our own small way Each on his aching shoulder bears. They little understand it, they Concerned alone with large affairs.

Some little duty takes our time, Some little worry takes our sleep, Some little slope we have to climb, Some little family to keep.

I have my world, and you have yours, The little often larger than Some other at his ease endures, And quite forgets the little man.

The little burden may be great, The great be little, after all. At least they bear with equal weight Upon the mighty and the small. © Douglas Malloch.—WNU Service.

GRAPHIC GOLF

POSITION OF RIGHT ARM

KEEP your eye on the golfer who is overanxious to kill the ball and you no doubt will see him flap the right arm around so that at the top of the stroke it is almost straight out from the trunk of the body. From such a position it is very easy to make the mistake of coming out on the ball from the outside in, i. e., cutting across the ball and adding a slice. Furthermore such an extreme movement adds an unnecessary tension to the arm which it could very well do without. The proper method is to keep the right arm comfortably close to the right side. Tommy Armour for example keeps his right elbow tucked in close but possesses freedom of action nevertheless. Armour's is more or less of an extreme position, most of the players allow the right arm a trifle more freedom after the manner of Bobby Jones above. On the longer shots the Atlanta wizard's elbow is raised moderately and on the first stages of the downstroke, drops abruptly nearer the side. The cock of the wrists is in no manner disturbed by this motion and their power is saved to be utilized later on. The abrupt dropping of the right arm insures a swinging path from the inside, close to the body and brings the clubhead onto the ball straight along the line of flight. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Mrs. Peter Madsen entertained at afternoon coffee Tuesday at her summer home at Danish Landing on Lake Margrethe. The guests included: Mrs. Marie Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson, Mrs. Carl Hanson, Mrs. Carl Madsen, Johannesburg; Mrs. Joe Schmidt and Mrs. Holger A. Hanson of Saginaw.

As part of the welfare program carried on by the American Legion Auxiliary, five children are being taken to Petoskey this week to have their eyes taken care of before school starts. The Auxiliary furnishes the transportation, and pay for the examination, while the Couzens Fund fits the children with glasses. This is excellent work and those responsible for its being carried on are to be commended. This is how part of the money collected by the sale of poppies each year is used by the Auxiliary Unit, and it is all used for welfare work.

Complimenting Mrs. Ernest Borchers several of her lady friends gathered at her home Tuesday evening for a pot luck dinner to celebrate her birthday anniversary. Covers were laid for eleven, the table being centered with a lovely arrangement of garden flowers. Mrs. Borchers was presented with a nice gift. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Fick returned home Monday morning from a two-weeks vacation spent visiting relatives in Winsted, Conn. They also visited in Buffalo, where they were guests of Leo Bibbins, a former college mate of Mr. Fick.

The members of the Kiwanis Club were privileged to hear City Manager George Granger at their meeting Wednesday describe the new city sewage disposal plant that is being constructed here at this time. All summer work on the plant has been going on and it appears that it will take a couple of months longer before the plant will be ready for operation. The contractors, Davenport & Watson, have requested an extension of thirty days time for completing the job. However when the plant is completed Grayling will have one that will have capacity sufficient for a city three times its size.

Miss Blanche Wheeler was hostess to a number of young people at her home Thursday evening as an expression of farewell to Carl Peterson Jr., who is leaving Sept. 12 for Hillsdale College to resume his studies for another year. Other guests included Miss Yvonne Kraus, Don Fitzpatrick, Miss Pauline Entsminger, Harold Smith, Miss Naomi Wheeler and Bill Moshier.

Don Reynolds took a novel way to demonstrate his RKO radios. He set one up in front of the Mac & Gidley drug store Monday night and gave those within a couple of blocks the Louis-Farr fight. Reception couldn't have been better.

Judge Louis Crampton of Lapeer, former congressman from that district, said recently after a trip on the AuSable, "This is the most beautiful of all." That might not mean much coming from some people, but from Judge Crampton it does mean much since he has visited the principal scenic spots of America and Europe. While here he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Richards at their summer home on the AuSable, near Wakeley bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bensinger (Ellen Gothro) and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gierke were fishing at Lake Margrethe when their boat capsized in about 17 feet of water. By hanging to the overturned craft and yelling for help, they were rescued.

The Alfred Hanson service station presented a fine motion picture show last evening, portraying many essential features of the Chevrolet autos. Along with that feature reels showing what is being done in the interest of safer driving and comforts for motorists, and also some entertaining features, were shown. It attracted a large crowd of people and was exhibited in front of the City park, across from the Hanson garage.

11 ROADSIDE PICNIC TABLES
IN CRAWFORD COUNTY

An expansion of the state highway department's roadside development policy during the past year has resulted in the placing of eleven roadside picnic tables along state highways in Crawford county this summer. This is an increase of three over the number available a year ago.

The state highway department has announced that more tourists than ever before are using the 1,500 roadside tables that have been placed throughout the state. This is a total increase of nearly 800 tables over last year. The tables are located at convenient points along the trunklines where outstanding views or a particularly shady spot are available. At many of these spots, stoves and well or springs are also provided.

"Counts taken at typical roadside picnic parks and letters we have received from tourists from all parts of the nation indicate that these extra services are deeply appreciated," said State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner. "Registrations also show that hundreds of Michigan motorists are using these picnic facilities as well as tourists from outside the state."

There are eight points in Crawford county where picnic facilities have been provided by the highway department. A list of them showing their location and facilities follows:

US 27—6 mile south of Grayling, 1 table.
US 27—2.1 miles south of Grayling, 1 table.
US 27—3.9 miles south of Grayling, 4 tables, roadside park, 2 toilets, 1 fireplace, 2 stoves.
M-76 & M-93 Junction—8 mile west of Grayling, V of junction, 1 table.
M-76—7.3 miles west of Grayling, north bank of Manistee River, 1 table.
US 27—2.8 miles north of Grayling, near Junction of US-27 and M-93, 1 table.
US 27—6.0 miles north of Grayling, 1 table.
US 27—9.8 miles north of Grayling, 1 table.

ROSE CITY A BUSY PLACE

It was the writer's pleasure to spend an afternoon recently in Rose City and it was a pleasant visit. In company with the officers and some of the members of Grayling Masonic lodge we attended the joint meeting of twelve different lodges of that fraternity. This meeting was unusual inasmuch as all officers of the Masonic Grand lodge were present, together with about 20 members of Saginaw lodges who were to exemplify the initiatory work of the first degree.

While Worshipful Master Ernest Larson and Secretary George Schaible of Grayling were setting in conference with the grand officers during the afternoon hours, the writer took in the town. This is indeed a busy agricultural community and the streets were lined with resident and farmer-community autos and a large number of tourists who drop in to trade and for general reasons. A few fine lakes nearby are the attraction for resorters and tourists. And this city sports a very fine community building costing about $40,000.

And too this is the home town of Former State Senator H. S. Karcher, and we found that fine citizen busy in his private office. He, with his son Clyde, operate the community drug store and an insurance business. The Senator and his son seemed glad to see us and we enjoyed a fine visit with them.

Senator Karcher is truly a pioneer in that community. The town was first named Rosetown and sported a general store and a blacksmith shop, and together with the surrounding communities, had a school. Senator Karcher struck this community in about 1887. Later the name was changed to Rose City and was incorporated into a city and Mr. Karcher served for 12 years as its mayor.

For 12 years he served as county probate judge and for 16 years was supervisor. For 26 years he was a member of the county school examiners commission.

The Karcher drug store was established in 1904, after having been operated as a general store prior to that time since the year 1889. Of course Rose City needed a postmaster and he served as such under President Benjamin Harrison from 1889 to 1893.

To round out a busy official life he served as state senator of the 28th senatorial district of Michigan, of which Crawford county was a part. This was from the year 1921 to 1925.

Karcher & Son's drug store is still the popular place in this fine community and bids fair to continue serving the public for many years to come.

IRA LEONARD

Ira Allen Leonard was born in Sanilac county, Michigan June 1st, 1884, and passed away at his home here August 23, 1937 at the age of 53 years, 2 months and 22 days. Mr. Leonard was a well known resident since 1899. He purchased the home where he passed away allowing his parents the late George W. and Dorothea Hellens Leonard to occupy it until their death. For the past four years he had occupied it with a housekeeper Mrs. Moore. GAYLORD NUPTIALS CLIMAX
TO OHIO STATE ROMANCE

One of the prettiest of the late summer weddings here was that of Miss Dorothea Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Henning of Columbus, O., to James W. St. Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. St. Johns of Columbus, O., which took place Saturday afternoon at the summer residence of the groom's parents at Otsego Lake.

Standing beneath a bower made of white birches and behind tall white cathedral candles, Dr. Herbert Rice, late of India and a life-long friend, read the wedding service. Large baskets of gladiolus and summer flowers made a lovely setting for this out-of-doors wedding.

The bride wore white lace made redingote style over white marquisette with a halo of lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladiolus.

Catherine Postlewaite, maid of honor wore pale blue lace of redingote style and carried peach gladiolus. Walter Frear was best man; Dorothy Wilce, flower girl was dainty in peach and green chiffon and carried a colonial bouquet.

After the ceremony, an informal reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. St. Johns left for a motor trip to Canada. The couple met while students at Ohio State University. Mr. St. Johns is with the Jeffery Manufacturing Co., of Columbus, O., at which city the couple will make their future home.—From Bay City Times.

Both Mr. and Mrs. St. Johns are very well and favorably known in Grayling. Mr. St. Johns has spent every summer at Otsego Lake for many years and has during that time gained many friends in this vicinity. Last summer he acted as pro of the Grayling Golf Club and during his stay here he was taken in as one of this community, making friends with everyone. Mrs. St. Johns has also spent considerable time here in the past year and like the groom won many fine friends, all of whom extend the newlyweds congratulations and best wishes.

Those attending the wedding from here included: Mr. and Mrs. George Olson and daughter Georgianna, Mrs. Roy Milnes, Mr. and Mrs. Esbern Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Trudgeon, Mrs. A. J. Joseph and daughter, Mary Jane and son, Bill, Miss Gail Welsh, Mrs. G. A. Kraus, Mr. Wm. Friedman, Mr. Paul Klopff, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hanson and Mr. Wilhelm Raae.

CANFIELD BABY PASSED

Rosetta Marie Canfield, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Canfield of Beaver Creek Township, passed away at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Friday morning. The babe had not been well since birth and on the advice of local physicians was taken to Ann Arbor for examination. The child however, passed away before anything could be done for it. The little girl's twin brother Robert Leo, is a patient at Grayling Mercy Hospital, also ill.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Alfred Galloway home and the following from out of town came to be in attendance, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glendinning, Cadillac; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson, Flint.

The little girl was born April 17, 1936 and besides the parents and twin brother is survived by one sister Eleanor, and its grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Canfield.

News By Nosey

It so often happens, when you are in search of one thing, something of an entirely different nature will turn up, and many times this second interest is equally as attractive as your first choice.

This happened to me last week. I had noticed a rather new sign along the south road, down river from Grayling, and had been interested for some time in just what sort of a place it pointed to, but I probably would not have been so keenly interested if Mr. and Mrs. Richards had not mentioned the same place.

I drove down the road to investigate this "Louis of the Statler", and at first was disappointed, not finding him there. This disappointment however, did not last, because I was greeted most cordially by a little grey haired lady, whom I have, of course, heard of, but never been fortunate enough to meet.

Mrs. Frieda Lenartz is well worth the meeting. I know that loads of Grayling and surrounding country folks must be acquainted with her, but I feel sure that lots of the river folks, and especially the newer ones, might never chance to meet her, and this, to my mind, would be a shame.

Mrs. Lenartz has lived in that same little cottage for twenty years, she told me, and she has been alone a good share of the time since a year ago last April, when Mr. Lenartz died. I say "alone"; that is hardly true, for a woman of Mrs. Lenartz's type is never really alone. Her thoughts, and wonderful sense of humor would be company to a large extent.

Then too, no one with those heaps and heaps of lovely flowers right on the river bank and all around the house, could get so very lonely.

However, she did tell me she liked company, and at times has lots of it, because she rents three attractive rooms to paying guests, and these guests, as I understand, are often sent to her by "Louis of the Statler." He serves the meals and they sleep in her home.

If I were new to the river, and wanted a truly different, and also delightful place to stop, I should by all means look up Frieda Lenartz.

There are so many interesting persons and places just off the beaten track, that it surely pays one to look them up. I asked Mrs. Lenartz if she were intending to stay there alone all winter, but she told me no. After deer season she will be with her brother in Detroit. The Sheppard girls who used to be at Whippoorwill called often on Mrs. Lenartz, and she was very interested in knowing all about the folks who own Whippoorwill now. She knows the river well, and loves it, and can tell some very interesting stories.

Ned and Pat Wickes are on the entertainment committee this week. They have a lively household, Ned Wickes Junior among them, and they are doing lots of fishing.

Walter Bromley and a friend of his were at Whippoorwill for several days, but reported very few trout caught, altho they spent many hours in the stream, trying.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graham of Bloomfield have definitely decided to build a cabin, soon, next to the Whippoorwill property. Mrs. Graham told me she likes the Air-Lock logs but is not sure about that part of it, as yet. Mr. Campbell who built the Bailey cabin seems to have the Graham cabin also, and I understand will start work very soon.

Mrs. Graham will have two separate cabins, one for dining room and kitchen, the other main cabin with living room, several bed rooms and two baths. This cabin will face the river from the high ground back of the rearing ponds.

The understanding to date is: a joint caretakers cabin somewhere on the line, between the Bromley's and Grahams'. This to be built of logs.

We used to think Labor Day ended the season up here, to a certain extent, but it seems as tho everyone is planning on being around, way into the holiday season. This country is surely getting popular!

Non-partisan News Letter
Michigan Press Association
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—Labor Day next Monday (Sept. 6) will bring a golden exodus of summer resorters from Michigan's paradise of lovely lakes and picturesque streams.

Highways will be loaded with traffic, both day and night, as literally hundreds-of thousands of persons hit the road, bound for homes in the Middle-West. Special trains will leave the resort country in numerous sections, for Detroit, Chicago, and other points. Lake steamships, "oversold" for weeks, will carry capacity lists.

This tourist "harvest" may not mean much to the man on the street whose income is such that he can't afford to take his family away to lakes or parks for two weeks. In some parts of Michigan where industry and agriculture predominate, city dwellers are apt to become irritated as the summer tourists crowd stores, jam highways, and otherwise spend money.

But it is a matter of cold, matter-of-fact statistics that Michigan's lakes and streams are worth $315,000,000 annually. Michigan's tourist business, in fact, is unrivalled anywhere in the United States and that includes such exotic places as California and Florida. Put that in your pipe!

Second Largest Industry

Michigan is unique among its neighboring commonwealths by the economic phenomenon of having exclusively two leading industries—automobiles and tourists.

Detroit is the world's capital for automobiles. When a visitor from Europe comes to the United States, he must see at least New York, Hollywood, and Detroit. But always—Detroit.

Manufacture of automobiles is peculiarly a Michigan industry. From the state comes approximately 90 per cent of the world's automobile output.

It was the automobile that led American business out of the depression, so competent observers tell us.

Michigan's second industry—the tourist and resort business—even tops California where it is worth $267,111,638 according to figures obtained by the American Automobile association. Wisconsin's lakes are worth $200,000,000; Maine, $100,000,000; and Minnesota, $90,000,000.

Farmers Cool to C. I. O.?

Prospects of a farmer-labor movement in Michigan appear to be growing dimmer as summer days grow shorter.

At Greenville on Oct. 7 and 8 the hopes of the C. I. O. to effect a political affiliation with farmers will come to a showdown. The occasion will be the state convention of the Michigan Farmers Union, headed by Ira Wilmoth, farmer near Adrian.

Homar Martin, head of the U. A. W., addressed the union's picnic at Grand Rapids several weeks ago and urged a "closer bond of sympathy and co-operation between the Farmers Union and the C. I. O." As an inducement, he hinted that labor would favor a co-operative distribution for foodstuffs from the farm to the factory worker's home, eliminating the middleman and jobbers—not a new idea, of course. An echo of Martin's statement was heard in Washington the following week when John L. Lewis, president of C. I. O., piloried the democratic congress for scuttling the administration's wage and hour bill and then advocated farm-labor unity for 1940.

Farmer Wilmoth of Adrian is distrustful of the C. I. O. He declares: "Labor wants the farmer to invest his money in co-operative buildings in the city. If that were done and the middlemen started cutting prices, the workers in the city would abandon the co-operative and go where they could get cheaper prices. . . . What does a man who stands in front of a factory conveyor line day after day know about farm problems?"

Brewers' Big Horses

While the Michigan Brewers' association is waging an educational campaign to persuade drinkers to use Michigan-made beer, the state liquor control commission, co-operating with Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, is embarking on a "sane consumption" program to encourage temperance.

A bulletin on "Alcohol and Narcotics" has been prepared by Dr. Elliott's department. Every teacher will be enabled to give factual information on the effect of alcohol.

Thus, the state exacts taxes from a monopoly of alcoholic beverages and attempts to promote temperance in drinking, both at the same time. Apparently, the idea is that government should control the traffic, if it can't suppress it.

Liquor by the Glass

Midnight Saturday, September 18, is the deadline for action by local legislative bodies to signify whether they want liquor by the glass within their jurisdictions.

Throughout the state there are about 3,200 restaurants and hotels where liquor may be sold by the glass.

Although the legislature opened the door wide to the old-time bar and brass rail, the serving of hard liquor is still restricted by law to "bonafide hotels and restaurants."

Liquor license refunds to municipalities totalled $1,977,345 this year.

Sugar Beet Profits

In many a farm home, prospects of a good sugar beet yield is sweetening anticipations of a cold Michigan winter.

At Alma, St. Louis, and Mt. Pleasant sugar beet factories are getting in readiness to receive the crop at weigh stations about October 1. The sugar belt contains 27,000 acres; the crop will aggregate 270,000 tons.

When you use sugar for canning or other kitchen needs, "say it with Michigan beet sugar." This industry alone provides employment for thousands of men in factories and fields, not to mention hundreds of trucks for delivery of beets.

Coins Not Polished

The finish on United States coins is due to the fact that they are stamped with highly polished well-made dies. These dies are so smooth that there is no necessity for subsequent treatment of the coins to polish them.

Making Best of Youth

Use thy youth so that thou mayest have comfort to remember it when it hath forsaken thee. Use it as the springtime which soon departeth and wherein thou oughtest to plant and sow all provisions for a long and happy life.
